

Action Must Follow Research On Pollution

SECOND OF A SERIES

"We know how to virtually eliminate pollution," says William C. Ackermann, Chief of the Illinois State Water Survey. "Our technology is sufficient to solve present problems. But there is a considerable gap between what we know how to do and what we have applied. The Bottleneck now is in bricks and mortar."

According to Ackermann, the proposed $1 billion Bond Issue is earmarked for research. "The Bond Issue is an action program," he says, "it is for building things like sewage plants and reservoirs, and is backed up by our research."

The State Water Survey, an agency of the State Department of Registration and Education, is financed by a continuing state appropriation. Its primary responsibility is the scientific study of our water resources. At any one time there are fifty to sixty research projects going on dealing with evaluation of water quantity and quality, affecting water resources.

"We're interested in clean and dirty water," Ackermann says. "We bet on future problems here and try to solve them."

Research, however, can only uncover problems and propose solutions to them. It takes money to turn research into action.

Ackermann cited a five-year study of potential reservoir sites in Illinois as a good example of a solid piece of research that can become reality if the Bond Issue passes in November. This study shows where and how over eight hundred reservoirs can be built in Illinois for water storage and recreation. The study involved a long investigation of stream flow and sediment load and has arrived at the best possible locations for reservoirs. All of this information will be available for application with passage of the Bond Issue.

According to Ackermann, "Illinois is at the bottom of the totem pole when it comes to areas for water related recreation." Another Water Survey study has analyzed the features of open rivers and has found that they hold a great potential for recreation in Illinois. "We have thousands of miles of streams in Illinois," Ackermann says. "If water quality is improved, greater use will be made of rivers."

Improving the quality of these rivers is, of course, an important objective of the Water Plan.

As it is now, ALL streams in Illinois are polluted to varying degrees.

"The traditional polluters are local communities and local industries," Ackermann says, "but now we are finding that pollution also comes from farms. Pesticides and fertilizers are washed into streams along with the tremendous amount of untreated animal wastes which accumulate in concentrated animal feed lots." As agriculture becomes more important to feed a growing population; these farm pollutants will pose greater and greater problems.

The new water standards set in 1967 for Illinois streams make it mandatory that there be an upgrading in water quality—one way or another. These standards call for a higher degree of sewage treatment. "Secondary treatment will be necessary everywhere," says Ackermann, "and tertiary treatment will be needed in some places to raise the level of streams to meet the standards. At the same time, more loads are being put on these streams—more industry and more people—which means more potential pollution."

Since many communities in the state are now unable to finance solutions to their sewage problems, the Bond Issue is a possible answer. As it stands now, local communities must put up 70 per cent of the money for sewage treatment projects in order to get 30 per cent in federal funds. If the Bond Issue passes, communities will have to raise just 20 per cent of the necessary money—state and federal funds will make up the other 80 per cent. This could be a boon to the more than 600 small towns in Illinois which now have no sewage treatment facilities.

Ackermann points out that if the Bond Issue does not pass, a heavy burden will be placed on the water standards must be met, towns which are unable or unwilling to take care of their sewage problems will find that the Sanitary Water Board has some very effective methods for enforcing water standards.

"Streams will be monitored and if pollution is found, a city or industry can be called in for a hearing. Then, if the pollution is not abated within a reasonable time, heavy fines may be imposed. Moreover, the Board may refuse to approve additions to a community's water system, thus stifling growth until action is taken to stop pollution.

Other phases of the Water Plan simply cannot be enacted unless the Bond Issue passes in November. If it does not pass, Ackermann believes that Illinois will not be as good a place to live. "Flood losses will continue to mount," he says, "and people will continue to leave Illinois for vacations since we now have less recreation area than other states." Also, increased demands on our water supply may produce serious conditions by 1980 unless steps are taken now to store and move our water.

"The $1 billion Bond Issue, and the Federal and local funds it will generate, will solve our PRESENT problems by 1980," Ackermann says. "But research must go on. New problems will come up as others are eliminated."

He mentions "heat pollution," radioactivity, and the presence of nitrates and phosphates in our water as problems that will likely arise in the not too distant future. "Invisible air pollution"—that is, dangerous but unseen chemicals in the air also have serious implications for 1980 and beyond.

Working for clean water and air is a continuous process. It begins with research, but must culminate with action. Since dollars are needed to translate solutions into "bricks and mortar"—the $1 billion Bond Issue for air and water resources is an important step.

Summer Storm Hits Antioch, County

Saturday's storm wrecked havoc throughout Lake County as high winds and rain tore up trees and created damage running into the millions.

A summer storm lashed Lake and McHenry Counties during the weekend tearing up trees and causing power failures with resulting damage estimated in the millions of dollars.

The Antioch area, however, came out of the winds which ranged up to 90 miles an hour in good shape.

While electrical service throughout the counties was disrupted up to 24 hours, Antioch's blackout only lasted about two hours and several trees were blown down.

There was no power for the sewerage treatment plant, but no problem developed because most of the sewers are operated on gravity flow.

Antioch's water supply was also in good shape because of the auxiliary natural gas engine which runs the water pumps in time of stress.

A giant tree was uprooted on Indian Point on the Kenilworth property, doing damage to a child's swing set and birdhouse in the Floyd Hoffman front yard.

A pier was picked up by the high winds and telescoped on Indian Point Saturday morning.

The power failure made cash registers inoperable in many stores and left them without refrigeration or lights. The State Bank of Antioch had problems with the operation of their electric machines until an auxiliary generator was put into operation.

In private homes, people carried water from basement hot water tanks by the bucketful for washing dishes and bathing.

One man going to a wedding had to do his shaving at a local gas station.

In the Channahon Lake area the electricity failure was not corrected until 8 p.m. Saturday.

Paul Simon To Visit In Antioch

Old-fashioned handshaking with local citizens will be emphasized by State Senator Paul Simon of Troy, Democratic candidate for lieutenant governor in his visit to Antioch Friday.

The 39-year-old Simon, a 14-year veteran of the Illinois Legislature always places great reliance on personal contact with the voters in his six successful campaigns, four for the Illinois House of Representatives and two for the State Senate. "The people have a right to meet and question those who seek to represent them," noted Simon. "I respect this right and will try to meet as many people as possible in my campaign."

Not just a name on a billboard to his constituents, Simon, it is said, shook 30,000 hands upsetting endorsed candidates in his first contest for elective office when he was only 25 years old.

Simon is a former newspaper publisher and the author of four books, as well as many magazine articles. With his wife, the former Jeanne Hurley, whom he met when they were both in the Illinois House of Representatives, Simon wrote "Protestant Catholic Marriages Can Succeed," based on their own experiences.

The Simons have two children, Sheila, age 7 and Martin, age 4.

Project Vietnam Will Continue Under Carter

Robert Carter, newly appointed acting postmaster for Antioch, said today that Project Vietnam would be continued.

Carter said, however, that he, personally, doesn't want any publicity for the project.

"This is not a one-man project," he declared, "and no one man runs it. It was started here in the Antioch Postoffice, but it is a community action project."

Carter pointed out that he was one of the original signers of the Project Vietnam idea when it was first proposed, "and nothing has happened to make me change my mind."

Sixteen postal employees signed the original project several months ago.

And Carter, 41, the father of three girls, pointed out that the original proposal stated that the project would continue as long as one boy is in Vietnam from Antioch.

Carter, a resident of Antioch for the past 18 years, had been on the postal department staff as city carrier for the past seven years.

He was appointed acting postmaster last Friday and replaces Joseph Wolf who held the post for 27 months.

Postmaster positions are political appointments and Wolf was brought in from outside the department to take over.

Carter said that Wolf would hold no position in the post office.

The new postmaster said that he prepared a resolution which was circulated among postal department employees.

The resolution is a re-signing of a pledge to support the Project Vietnam, and was unanimously signed by all Antioch postal employees.

It was at first feared that the program would be discontinued with the change of command but this did not prove to be the case, and the Antioch Rescue Squad returned the Project Vietnam Funds which Mr. Wolf had turned over to them.

Carter said he contemplated no changes in the postal office at the present time.

"I have to get my feet on the ground before I make any changes, if I make any," Carter said. "It will take a short time to assess the department so we will continue on as before."

Ogilvie Blasts Democrats

Richard B. Ogilvie set the tone of the fall campaign with a blistering indictment of the state Democratic administration.

Speaking to the state Republican convention in Springfield, Ogilvie declared:

"Our indictment is against a system which condones corruption, inefficiency and failure."

"We shall bring in a verdict against that system on Nov. 5."

"But our job, our goal, and our pledge—from this moment on—must be more than mere victory."

"We must leave this convention determined to restore the hope and the faith of the people of Illinois in their government."

The Republican candidate for governor noted that in 1940 and 1952 other GOP candidates for governor fought hotly contested primary races.

In both cases, he pointed out, the winners went on to "resounding victories" in the fall, and were reelected to second terms.

Ogilvie continued: "It is my intention to make political history repeat itself in 1968—and in 1972!"

He charged the Democratic administration with failure in eight vital fields: crime prevention, road maintenance, state payrolls, finances, education, recreation, prison reform and constitutional changes.

"Illinois has the highest rate of violent crime of any state in the nation," Ogilvie charged. "In view of rising crime, the two vetoes of stop-and-frisk legislation were acts of political hypocrisy," he declared.

Neglect of state roads helped cause more than 15,000 highway deaths since 1960, Ogilvie declared. During the same period, he said, more than one million

State Bank Art Display Draws Crowd

Much attention is being given to the art display in the window of the State Bank of Antioch.

The Antioch Adventurers 4-H group is responsible for the display which features ceramic art objects and paintings.

Mrs. Ellen McDowell is the leader for the art group and Mrs. Phyllis Kapischke is the Ceramics leader.

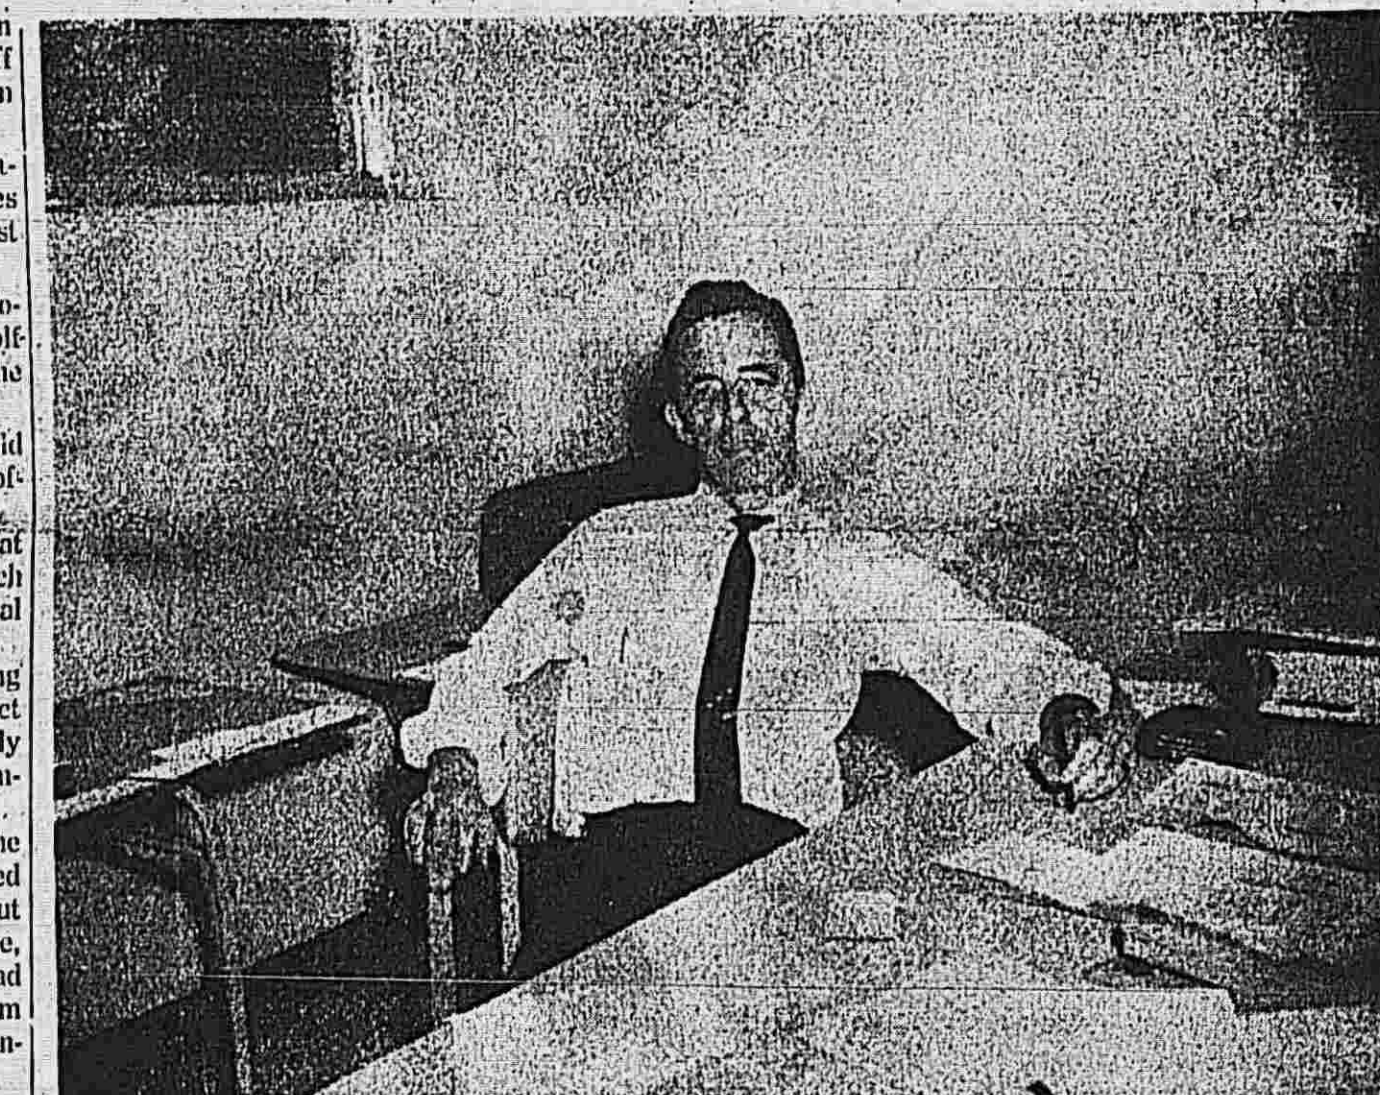

The Adventurers who have paintings on display are: Kirsteen McDowell, Lynn and Sharon Hall and those having ceramics on exhibit are Linda Lagerstrom, Sally Major, Diane Fischer, Heather and Heidi Petty, Kirsteen McDowell and Sharon Hall.

This art and ceramics display will move to the Lake County Fair when it opens later in July.

Antioch Area Gets New Welcome Aides

Mrs. Edna Ewen is the new Welcome Wagon Lady for the Antioch area. She will assist Mrs. Norma Yde of Lake Shore Drive, Antioch, in greeting the new families who move into Antioch Township.

Mrs. Ewen is a resident of Venetian Village, Lake Villa.

Robert Carter, 41, new acting postmaster for Antioch, relaxes in his new office after getting caught up with management chores.

Four From Antioch Area Cited

Four Antioch area residents and a Bristol, Wis., youth were among those indicted Monday by the Lake County Grand Jury.

Named were Charles Rundgren, 19, of 830 Cedar Crest Drive, Lake Villa, Gregory Williams, 17, of 405 Second St., Antioch, and his brother, Kurt, 18, of the Second Street address, Valerie Harvey, 20, of 895 Main St., Antioch and Edward Wretman, 17, of Bristol, Wis.

All five were indicted for burglary and the bonds in each case was set at $5,000.

The Williams brothers and Rundgren were indicted for the June 9 burglary of the A&W.

4-H Public Speaking Contest Best Named

Top winners in the Lake County 4-H Public Speaking Contest are Becky Boyer of the Barrington's Flynn Valley 4-H Club and Gerry Butler of the Happy Hayceeds Club.

Becky, age 10, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Boyer, Barrington, and a first year member, was rated the highest scoring speaker in the girls' division of the contest. The title of the winner's speech was "Citizenship."

Gerry Butler, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Butler of Mundelein, and a five year member was top rated speaker in the boys' division. Gerald spoke on the subject, "What Should an Education Mean to You?"

Because of Becky Boyer's being under age for entry in the state contest to be held at Springfield on August 15, Mary Nachowicz, second place winner in the county contest, will represent Lake County in the girls' division. Mary, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Nachowicz, Mundelein, and a seven year member of the Mundelein Elves 4-H Club spoke on the subject, "A Treasure."

The alternate Lake County representative in the girls' division of the state contest is Eileen Regner, 14, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Al Regner, McHenry, and a five year member of the Volo Busy Bees Club. Eileen chose as her topic, "Child Life in Colonial Days."

Gerald Butler will represent Lake County in the boys' division of the State Public Contest at Springfield.

The second top rating contestant and first alternate is Tony Titus, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. Titus, Mundelein, and a first year member of the Happy Hayceeds 4-H Club. The title of Tony's speech was "They're Out After You."

In addition to the above named 4-H members, the following also were awarded blue ribbons for the excellence of their speeches: Mark Buck, Lincoln Lads and

Register: Then You Can Vote

Now is the time to be sure you are registered to vote in the general election next November.

According to the Illinois State Bar Association, many would-be voters are turned away from the polls each election day because their names cannot be found on the lists of registered voters.

The most common mix-up over registration is due to change of address. People register to vote in their voting precincts and must re-register or transfer their registrations whenever they move from one precinct to another, even within the same county.

In order to vote in State or local elections, a person must have lived in Illinois for one year, in a county for 90 days, and in a voting precinct of that county.

N-I Gas Bills Cut

William J. Crowley, executive vice-president of Northern Illinois Gas Company, has announced that gas bills for its customers will be reduced to reflect a refund of more than $715,000 during the next 12 months.

The utility has received a refund in that amount from Natural Gas Pipeline Co. of America, one of its major gas suppliers.

NI-Gas plans to pass the refund back to gas users through its purchased gas adjustment provisions.

The reduction will apply to bills for gas service from June 1, and will continue over a 12-month period.

The refund will benefit all of NI-Gas' nearly one million customers.

EDITORIAL

A Rededication

The Antioch Chamber of Commerce has joined with the State Chamber of Commerce and business and political leaders throughout the state in endorsing Rededication Weekend.

It is a period set aside from July 4 through 7 during which all people of Illinois are being called on to rededicate themselves to the basic principles that made America great.

We will enthusiastically join in that endorsement.

There are 10 basic points to the pledge that has been put forth by these organizations. We will enumerate them.

- ... Fly the American Flag during the entire July 4 weekend.
- ... Practice the principles which made America strong.
- ... Show respect for law and order.
- ... Practice tolerance and understanding.
- ... Assure that all Americans have equal opportunity.
- ... Speak out against extremist groups which seek to divide our country.
- ... Insist on fair and honest political activity which allows freedom of expression.
- ... Demand full and impartial enforcement of our laws.
- ... Teach our children to obey the law and respect the property rights of others.
- ... Help those in our community who are less fortunate.

We feel that these 10 points wouldn't be a bad thing to go by throughout the year, as well as for the holiday period.

We think that if all of these points are put into practice by everyone, this old world wouldn't be such a bad place to live after all.

Let's give it a try.

We Wish Him Well

Antioch's acting postmaster Joseph Wolf has been replaced.

Politics played a dramatic part in the replacement we are sure.

But politics has nothing to do with the esteem that the citizens of Antioch should give Joseph Wolf.

During his 27 months in the post, Wolf has done a creditable job. He has led many projects, such as Project Vietnam, to a new high.

When Wolf took over the job as postmaster, the revenue in Antioch was at $177,000. It has now reached $300,000.

We are sure that Joe Wolf made some enemies in the post—or he wouldn't have been replaced.

But we are also sure that he made more friends.

Whatever he decides to do, we wish him well.

Your Congressman Reports....
By Cong. Robert McClory

The rebellion of American youth is being fanned by a proposal to lower the voting age to 18. This recommendation received a major boost recently when President Johnson was granted an honorary degree from Texas Christian University at Fort Worth. Bedecked with cap and gown, the President told his audience of 1200 youthful students, "We should move forward now—to grant the vote to 18-year olds."

President Johnson's revival of this time-worn issue was received enthusiastically by his immediate audience and by young activists and political figures from one end of the nation to the other. It seems appropriate therefore that the American public give consideration to an issue which may assume unprecedented prominence in the forthcoming presidential campaign and may for the first time receive major consideration by the Congress next year.

Qualifications to vote are established for the most part by state law. Georgia and Kentucky have already lowered the voting age to 18. In Alaska, the minimum age for voting is 19 and, in Hawaii, it is 20. However, in order to impose an 18-year minimum age throughout the 50 states, an amendment to the U. S. Constitution would be required. At the present session of the Congress, more than one hundred members of the U. S. House and Senate including the Senior Senator from Illinois, Everett M. Kirkson, have proposed such a Constitutional amendment. However, no hearings have been held on such proposals and there is no possibility of action at the present session.

Those favoring a reduction of the voting age of 18 make convincing arguments such as the following:

(a) If boys are old enough to fight, they are old enough to vote.

(b) Eighteen-year olds are

Re-election signifies that the physician has successfully completed 150 hours of accredited post graduate medical study in the last three years. Members come up for re-election every third year on the date of election to membership. The Academy, the country's second largest national medical association, is the only medical group that requires members to keep up with medical progress through continuing education.

Ogilvie told delegates "the Republican party is the party of hope," and noted that its candidates were picked in an open primary—"We are not the hand-picked candidates of any boss or bosses of a political machine."

"Illinois finances are in such a mess," Ogilvie charged, "that it is impossible to place responsibility on any one Democrat. A mess like this takes teamwork."

"And what a team! State employees now number more than 100,000—an increase of 70 per cent."

Ogilvie said the public will not gain if a GOP victory merely replaces one set of officeholders with another. "Our victory must be of greater significance. It must be an opportunity for us to restore the validity, the integrity and the independence which have been so lacking in Springfield."

Republican victories, Ogilvie declared, will present an opportunity "to deal with the crisis of confidence which affects this station and nation."

Illinois Drivers Youthful

Illinois drivers have apparently located the fountain of youth because in the last seven years they have become considerably younger, Secretary of State Paul Powell said today.

Recently completed statistics on the age and sex distribution of drivers as of December, 1967, compiled by the Research and Development division of his office shows that the largest group of drivers are 20 years old, whereas in 1960, the largest group was the 36-year-olds, Mr. Powell said.

There were 84,244 male drivers 20 years old in December, 1967, or 1.48 per cent of the total driver population of 5,669,878, and 67,721 female drivers, or 1.19 per cent of the total, for a combined total of 2.67 per cent.

The 1960 statistics gave only percentages, and at that time the 20-year-olds accounted for 2.04 per cent of all drivers, placing them in 30th place, rather than first. The 36-year-olds accounted for 2.46 per cent of the total.

The figures for 1966 showed 19-year-olds in first place, with 2.81 per cent of the total.

Secretary Powell said the shift in the largest group of drivers by age reflects the "baby boom" in the years immediately following the end of World War II.

For male drivers in 1967, those 19 years old made up the second largest group, 83,408 or 1.47 per cent; the third largest group was the 18-year-olds, with 81,482 or 1.44 per cent, and the fourth largest group was the 25-year-olds, with 79,237 or 1.40 per cent.

For female drivers, the second largest group was the 25-year-olds with 64,054 or 1.13 per cent, and the fourth largest group is the 19-year-olds, with 63,572 or 1.12 per cent.

Livestock production in 1968 is expected to be about the same as in 1967. Last year, the nation's livestock producers provided Americans with the largest amount of beef, veal, pork and lamb in history.

Trailer Driving Different

With boating becoming more and more popular, an increasing number of motorists are using their cars this summer to take their craft to vacation areas.

The landlocked seafarer who lives miles from river, lake or seashore needs to get his boat to water somehow, and the most common method is by trailer hitched to the family automobile.

Driving with a trailer, the Chicago Motor Club points out, is vastly different from driving the car alone. Six special skills are required.

—First, even the routine task of getting under way is different. The motorist pulling a trailer should start slowly, allowing more time for other traffic to clear before moving onto the highway. Acceleration should be slow and even, with frequent brief glances into the mirror to check not only following traffic, but also the actions of the trailer.

—Second, turning a corner with a trailer requires new techniques. The trailer wheels will not follow the exact path of your car's rear wheels. They will cut in closer to the inside of the curve. Consequently, you should position your car and trailer farther from the curb before beginning to make the turn.

—Third, in overtaking and passing, you need to remember that the towed vehicle will reduce your acceleration capability, and that you must allow much more distance to pass and return to the proper lane.

—Fourth, being overtaken and passed also calls for special techniques. Your speed will be slower than that of many others on the highway. Special attention should be given to drivers desiring to pass. When a heavy bus or truck passes you, the air it pushes aside will tend to cause the rear of your trailer to move to the right. Almost immediately the same thing will happen to the front of the trailer. A slight steering adjustment at this time will help. Braking should be avoided.

—Fifth, slowing and stopping also is far different from stopping the car alone. The differences stem from extra weight and length, over-all load distribution, effects of action of springs and shock absorbers, and the linking of the two units.

The motor club urges that you practice before you get into traffic, be sure trailer brakes are adjusted to the load, maintain a greater following distance than with your car alone and drive at a moderate speed.

—The sixth special skill is the most exacting of all—backing. It is such a specialized skill that the motor club recommends avoiding this maneuver whenever possible.

When backing up, the trailer will go in a direction opposite from the way you turn the car's wheels. If you want to back to the left, turn the wheels to the right—and vice versa for backing to the right. You should practice in a flat open space and have a helper to guide you. Remember that timing is important. There is usually a delayed action between the movement of the steering wheel and the rig's response.

Keep in mind that it takes skill to drive well with a trailer. To acquire it you will have to practice, practice, practice.

"Darwin" On WTTW Mon.

A team of Canadian scientists and cameramen aboard a squid-rigged brigantine will retrace the historic voyage of Charles Darwin to the remote Galapagos Islands on WTTW-Channel 11's NET JOURNAL—"Darwin" Monday, July 8 at 8 p.m. (repeated Wednesday, July 10, at 10:30 p.m.)

The original trip was begun in 1835 when Darwin, then a divinity student with a bent for scientific research, traveled aboard the British ship Beagle to the islands which are located some 600 miles west of Ecuador in the Pacific Ocean. There he found rare species of flora and fauna that sparked his subsequent evolutionary theories which were formulated in his book "The Origin of Species."

Undertaking this same journey 130 years later, the team of scientists found many of the flora and fauna first observed by Darwin—land tortoises, Darwin finches, the world's only sea-gorging lizard, flightless cormorant, penguins, a unique fork-tailed gull, cactus and sunflower trees, and inhospitable and moon-like volcanic landscapes.

To Darwin they had been a "living laboratory of evolution," sights unprecedented and inspiring. The documentary records some of these same sights, unaltered after more than a century, and utilizes still photographs of Darwin and scenes of his times as background to the actual voyage.

Bob Hunter Sells Holstein For $5,000

One of the world's most efficient milk manufacturers, a registered Holstein consigned by Robert Hunter of Antioch sold for $5,000 at the national Holstein Convention Sale in Milwaukee, on June 27. The "Sale of the Century," under the management of Wisconsin Holstein Association was the highlight for many of the delegates attending the 83rd Annual Convention of Holstein-Friesian Association of America.

This selected group of registered Holsteins, representing all areas of the nation, were on display at the State Fair Park. As is customary in livestock circles, consignors and their cattle arrived well in advance of sale date to permit these beauties of dairymen to put their best foot forward when the bidding started. Dairymen with an eye for business are striving to keep milk and other dairy products at a value within reach of every consumer. As a result, interest and demand for registered Holsteins, efficiency experts in the conversion of cereal grains and forage to milk, continue at an all-time high. Sale receipts for the familiar Registered Black and white sold at public auction have in each of the past two years exceeded ten million dollars.

L.V. Park For Use Of Community Only

Lake Villa's village park on Cedar Lake has a sign at its entrance saying that "The Park Is for the People of Lake Villa only." Mayor Donald Cremin said that over one weekend he had encountered persons in the park who were from Chicago and other areas.

He told trustees of the village board meeting on June 24 that the park was intended for Lake Villa residents only.

The Advance Data Processing Co. of Chicago was awarded the job of billing Lake Villa residents for water. They will do the work for 18 cents per bill and a minimum of $5 per billing. Trustees moved to write the Soo Line Railroad and inform them that the crossing at Grand Avenue is in need of repairs.

The board agreed that the manager of the Gulf Station at Grand Avenue and Rt. 83 be asked to

IAA Urges Action To Ease Farmers Economic Dilemma

The Illinois Agricultural Association board of directors has urged Congress to act on legislation that would help ease the economic dilemma facing farmers.

In a letter to all Illinois members of Congress, the IAA board requested support of legislation aimed at controlling inflation, expanding markets, and establishing a sound national farm program.

The board also requested the Illinois legislators' help in getting "widespread understanding among other members of Congress of the need for a healthy agriculture and soundness of any legislation which might affect it."

The IAA board's letter pointed out that farmers are faced with difficult and severe economic problems at a time when most of the nation's people are sharing in record economic well being. The board pointed out that current prices for most commodities, relative to the prices that farmers must pay for production items and living costs, are at depression levels.

The IAA board expressed concern about the lack of public understanding of the significance of America's agricultural production capacity. The board pointed out that the Americans are the best fed people in the world and that they spend a smaller portion of their income for food than any other people.

"Even in view of this contribution to the economic strength of our nation there are those who, either by direct accusation or implication, say that agriculture is to blame for those who remain hungry in the United States or that farmers are unconcerned about the plight of these people."

"American farmers can produce for the future if they are permitted to change as the needs of consumers direct. Farmers should not be inhibited by bureaucratic red tape administered by those who wish to make agriculture some type of public utility. Those who worry about hunger at home and abroad would do well to concern themselves with the problems of distribution of this bountiful production rather than point accusing fingers at those who produce it."

Program Planned For Youths

Fun and learning is planned for fifty Lake County youngsters during July, under a program just announced by four local organizations.

Navy volunteer instructors are planning to teach fifty boys between the ages of 13 and 16 years First Aid, Swimming, Seaman-ship, Damage Control and related water activities under a program sponsored jointly by the Navy Recruit Training Command, the Lake County Community Action Project, the Lake County Urban League and the Navy League.

The boys will assemble Tuesdays and Wednesdays, during July, at the Genesee Branch YMCA at 12:30. From there they will be bussed to the Naval Center. A bus will return them to the YMCA each program day.

At the Recruit Training Center, Navy instructors, who have volunteered, will conduct the training and fun sessions. All that is required of the boys is that they wear sneakers and assemble on time.

The group is limited to one busload initially. Participants will be selected in the order of application. Parents interested in having their children participate should contact the Lake County Urban League at 309 Washington Street, Waukegan, phone 244-7815 and submit an application and Consent Form no later than July 1.

Lotus Elementary School is still without a superintendent. Supt. James Boatwright resigned in January shortly after the school's business manager was killed in an auto accident. Dr. Irene C. Lang was hired shortly after as an administrator-teacher, but resigned late in May.

Happy Fourth Of July

Traditionally and by law July 4th is celebrated in America as the Day of Independence but actually the historic decision to break from British rule was made on July 2, 1776.

According to the Illinois State Bar Association, the delegates to the Continental Congress at Philadelphia decided the issue of independence when, on July 2, 1776, they passed a resolution stating "These United Colonies are, and of right ought to be, free and independent States."

The resolution was one of three introduced to Congress on June 7, 1776, by Richard Henry Lee of Virginia. The other resolutions, which were subsequently incorporated in the Declaration of Independence were that the colonies are absolved from all allegiance to the British crown," and, "that all political connection between them and the State of Great Britain is, and ought to be, totally dissolved."

Three days after Lee introduced his resolutions, Congress appointed a five member committee chaired by Thomas Jefferson to prepare a declaration of colonial independence. Jefferson drafted the declaration and sent it to the other committee members for changes and approval.

The voting on the Lee resolution was originally scheduled for July 1, 1776. Its proponents, however, secured a day's delay which enabled them to engage in additional political activity. As a result, delegates who opposed independence were persuaded to stay away from the July 2 session, while others who favored the resolution were encouraged to come to Philadelphia posthaste. One such delegate, Caesar Rodney rode all night from Delaware in order to cast an affirmative vote for independence.

The result was that the Lee resolution was passed on July 2 without a single dissenting vote. The next two days were spent discussing the Declaration which was unanimously adopted on July 4, the date now set aside, both by Illinois and federal laws, for celebrating American independence.

Register....

ty for 30 days. Anyone who moves from one precinct to another should act promptly to register before the deadline for registration.

A special provision in Illinois law makes it possible for people to vote for President and Vice-President even though they may not meet residence requirements to vote for state or local political offices or issues. Thus, a newcomer to the State who moves from one Illinois county to another, can vote in the Presidential election if he resides permanently in a voting precinct for 60 days next preceding election day, and if he was a qualified voter in the place of his prior residence.

Those who wish to vote under the 60 day provision must apply in person at the office of the county board of election commissioners or county clerk's office, in counties having no election board—not more than 90 days nor less than 30 days before the election. Their qualified voter status in the state or county of previous residence must be verified.

Failure to exercise the right to vote is another reason for temporary loss of the privilege. The name of any person who hasn't voted within the past four years is removed from the election rolls. That person then must re-register at least 28 days prior to the election.

On July 1st 2,500 Information Operators changed their names.

No, they didn't all get married (except for the girl in the middle). They've changed their names from Information Operator to Directory Assistance Operator. The reason: Directory Assistance is a more accurate description of the jobs they do.

Think about it. They are there to help you find phone numbers when you aren't able to find them yourself. Like when there's no directory around, or when you need a new number that's not listed yet.

Sounds logical? Sure. But a lot of people call for assistance and never realize that the number they need is probably right there in the phone book. At Illinois Bell, three-fourths of the calls to Information are for numbers correctly listed in the directory. We're hoping the new name will help remind people that the girls at Directory Assistance are there to help whenever the phone book isn't. So remember, before you call for the number you need, give the book a look.

They sampled the delicious food in many of the well known restaurants and even tried turtle soup and seafood gumbo.

After New Orleans, the trip went to McAllister, Oklahoma, and saw the International Temple of Rainbow. They toured the temple and met the new supreme recorder.

On arriving home they had only a short time to get ready for their trip to the Illinois Grand Assembly at the Conrad Hilton Hotel for this week-end.

AGC Elects New Officers

The members of the Antioch Garden Club were most fortunate to have the opportunity of hearing Vivian Rankin of the Illinois Department of Conservation at their June meeting. Mrs. Rankin's program consisted of an excellent movie on Wild Life and a plea to help preserve our natural resources.

In this area, we are blessed with beautiful lakes and lovely countryside, but all this will disappear if we allow our highways to be littered with garbage and our "Chain" to become a "Lake Erie."

The Garden Club feels that any organization using this program by the Conservation Department will be making a fine contribution to their community.

The following officers will head up the activities for the Antioch Garden Club in 1968-69:

President — Mrs. Clarence Spiering
1st Vice-president — Mrs. Elmer Christophersen
2nd Vice-President — Mrs. Lloyd Leable
Secretary — Mrs. Murray Conzelmann
Treasurer — Mrs. John Epert

The following members are Committee Chairmen:

Membership — Mrs. Lloyd Leable; Program — Mrs. J. Shinkunas; Publicity — Mrs. Donald Purdy; Social — Mrs. Howard Wells; Properties — Mrs. Clarence Spiering; Parliamentarian — Mrs. Dudley Kennedy; Annual Card Party — Mrs. Fred Oschmann.

Cashless Society Is Seen

With the credit card movement still gaining momentum, the American traveler soon may be entering a "cashless society."

However, the Chicago Motor Club-AAA cautions travelers to treat their credit cards as though they were cash.

True, credit cards are personalized, namebearing things. Signatures of holders are invariably required at point of purchase and the cards are "safer than cash." But there are some added dangers, too, the CMC notes.

If cash is lost to a burglar, pickpocket, locker room thief or holdup man, or merely lost or misplaced, just the amount of cash in the wallet is gone.

If the credit card is lost, however, the thief has an "open end" opportunity to run up a major tab.

For safe handling of your credit cards, here are a few suggestions from the CMC:

—Regard credit cards as cash. Don't carry them loose in your pocket, or leave them lying around your hotel room.

—Each time you use one, make sure you get it back.

—Save your receipts and check your monthly statements. Even in these days of punch cards and "infallible" machines, mistakes occur.

—If your card is lost, immediately notify the issuer—giving your name, address where you are billed, account or credit card number and telephone number. A telegram has been construed to constitute proper written notice. After such notice, most issuers will assume liability for subsequent purchases on the card.

—Don't throw away old or unsolicited cards without first cutting them into small pieces.

—Never loan credit cards. Would you loan your checkbook?

—Keep a credit card record list in a safe place apart from cards.

Crusade Of Mercy Seeks $25.5 Million

A campaign goal of $25,526,000 has been set for the 1968 Metropolitan Crusade of Mercy.

The amount, determined by Crusade trustees, represents an increase of 6 per cent over the $24,095,808 raised in last year's drive which achieved 100.2 per cent of the goal.

Largest charitable campaign in the metropolitan Chicago area, the Crusade of Mercy raises funds for the Community Fund of Chicago, Mid-America Chapter of the Red Cross and the Suburban Community Chest Council. More than 900 voluntary human care services are supported by the Crusade.

This year seven additional suburban community chests will participate in Metro, bringing the total of 88. They cover 147 suburban communities in five counties.

Edward C. Longelin, general campaign chairman, expressed confidence that the goal, an all-time high, can be met, although acknowledging "it won't be easy."

"Top management in business and industry and individual citizens are deeply concerned about the serious problems which today confront everybody who lives in a metropolitan area," he said. "I am convinced—and I'm making it my business to convince others—that Crusade of Mercy services remain the core of our attack on social problems," Longelin stated.

He added that Crusade services are daily on the firing line, face to face with some of the key issues.

"But to increase their impact, they need more help in the form of greater financial support," the chairman pointed out.

"This is no time for 'business as usual' or 'giving as usual.' This year's campaign calls for extra effort and extra support," he said.

Logelin is vice president of the Chicago U. S. Steel Corp.

In establishing the 1968 goal, Crusade trustees took into consideration the verified needs of the three partner organizations: Roland W. Kott, Crusade president, pointed out; however, that "the needs of the Community Fund, Red Cross and Suburban Council are substantially greater than the goal."

Explaining the increased goal, Kott said that city dwellers and suburbanites have more problems which demand the attention of voluntary human care services.

These range from care of homeless children to services to the aged, and include family counseling, visiting nurse service, rehabilitation for handicapped people, and services to youth.

Red Cross assistance to servicemen and their families has burgeoned because of the Vietnam war, Kott added. "And we are constantly faced with rising costs which affect all Crusade services in Chicago and the suburbs."

Division of campaign funds, determined by Crusade trustees, will be: Community Fund of Chicago, 68.7 per cent; Red Cross, 16.9 per cent; Suburban Community Chest Council, 14.4 per cent.

Logelin announced that the campaign will open officially September 19. Organization of volunteers is now under way; so solicitation will be directed to 35,000 business and industrial firms, and their 1,750,000 employees. In addition, each participating suburban community chest will conduct a local campaign directed to retail businesses, school and municipal employees and professional people.

Mayor Cremin In Accident

Donald F. Cremin, Mayor of Lake Villa, was taken to St. Therese Hospital, Waukegan, last Wednesday with injuries suffered in a two-car accident at Rollins Road and Rte. 83.

Mayor Cremin told police he was going north on Rt. 83 when his car was struck on the left side by a vehicle traveling east on Rollins Road.

Richard Hall, of Glendon, West Virginia, was the driver of the second car and his passenger was Raymond Lemon, also from West Virginia. They were thrown from their car on impact.

Hall was questioned by the police at the hospital and reportedly told them he thought the intersection was a four-way stop, and proceeded to go through the intersection.

Mayor Cremin was reported in fair condition and Hall is reported to be in satisfactory condition with a fracture of the left arm. Lemon's condition was described as fair, with a possible fracture of his leg.

Hall was ticketed for failure to yield the right of way.

State Police To Number 1350

Director of Public Safety Ross V. Randolph commented that approximately 150 additional places will be filled in continuous training classes opening in the fall. Men of 21 to 32 years of age will be welcomed by the recruiting officers in their nearest State Police District Headquarters.

ICC Investigates Freight Rate Increases For R.R.'s

In Illinois farm leader calls "encouraging" the action of the federal Interstate Commerce Commission ordering an investigation of proposed railroad freight rate increases.

William J. Kuhfuss, president of the Illinois Agricultural Association, state-wide Farm Bureau, said "it is healthy for the regulatory agency upon which we must depend for protection of the public interest to take a critical look periodically at the rate structures which vitally affect agriculture and all other segments of our economy."

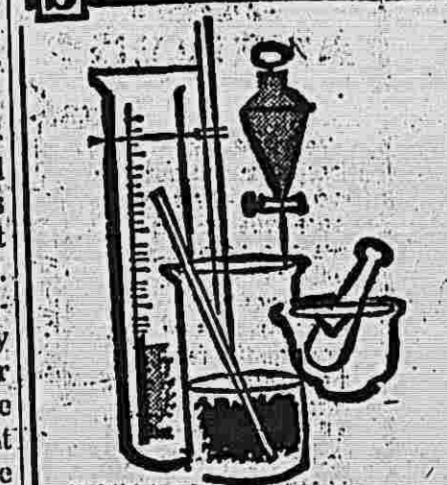

The Interstate Commerce Commission on June 19 suspended proposed rail freight increases ranging from three to 10 per cent asked by the nation's railroads. At the same time, the ICC authorized railroads to temporarily raise their rates by three per cent. Tariffs based on the across-the-board three per cent increase could take effect the day after filing with the ICC.

The federal regulatory agency ordered investigation of the proposed three to 10 per cent increase as well as the straight three per cent increase it authorized.

A petition in opposition to the proposed freight rate increases had been filed earlier with the ICC in Washington, D.C., on behalf of the Illinois Agricultural Association and FS Services, Inc.

In the statement filed with the commission, Robert L. Graves, director of transportation for the IAA and FS, said that any increase in rail freight rates on

No Plans Yet For Marina Near Zion

There has been a great deal of discussion on the construction of a marina for boating at Illinois Beach State Park near Zion.

Illinois Conservation Dept. Director, William T. Lodge says there are no definite plans now for a feasibility study and no definite action has been taken on the proposal at the state level.

Boaters on Lake Michigan have been seeking good docking facilities for some time and officials in the boating section of the department say that a marina would get heavy use in the park area. It would be the only one on Lake Michigan outside of the immediate Chicago area.

There has been considerable discussion on the possibility of using private funds to construct this marina, but Lodge was not sure whether this plan could be formulated.

Lodge also said the department is trying to acquire additional land for the park. He is also hopeful that work on a $200,000 nature museum at the park will get underway this year. The Department's budget included money for this project. The museum would feature all wildlife and botanical matters native to the area.

Jehovah's Witnesses from the Antioch area are in attendance at their district convention in Milwaukee this week. Scheduled for Thursday through Sunday, July 4-7, the conference has been organized and sponsored by the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society of New York, Inc.

David Mitchell, presiding minister of the Antioch congregation, said that all local meetings have been cancelled this week. An invitation was extended to all in the community to attend the highlight of the gathering Sunday, July 7, at 3 p.m. when George M. Couch of the Watchtower New York World headquarters will address the public on the subject, "Man's Rule About to Give Away to God's Rule."

The assembly based on the theme, "Good News for All Nations," is expected to draw 20,000 delegates from Wisconsin and parts of Illinois, Minnesota, Michigan and Iowa.

With the world in the deplorable condition it is in today," Mitchell said, "it is a privilege to share 'good news' concerning God's Kingdom to 'all nations' and that is what we will be doing at County Stadium in Milwaukee."

Congressman Robert McClory (R-Lake Bluff) today hailed action by the House Judiciary Committee in recommending a stiff gun control measure, and at the same time criticized President Johnson's statement indicating that he would decline to apply portions of the Omnibus Anti-Crime Bill passed overwhelmingly by the Congress, which he signed reluctantly yesterday.

Congressman McClory, who gave active support to the new House

VA housing starts, appraisal requests on existing dwellings, and applications for home loan guaranty showed an increase in May over April.

Only appraisal requests on proposed dwelling declined from April to May.

May's 5,464 VA housing starts were up 1.9 per cent from April's total of 5,362. The 20,243 appraisal requests last month on existing dwellings were 1,665, or 8.9 per cent, higher than in April. Home loan guaranty applications in May totaled 21,474, up 2.4 per cent from April's 20,965 figure.

Running behind the previous month were the appraisal requests on proposed dwellings. In May these numbered 10,957, down 11.9 per cent from April's total of 12,448.

VA's 5,464 housing starts in May 1968 were 735 or 11.3 per cent, higher than the same month a year ago. Also higher this May compared with a year ago were appraisal requests on proposed dwellings. For May 1968 the figure was 10,957, up slightly from the 10,929 of May 1967.

Appraisal requests on existing dwellings, on the other hand, were 28 per cent less in May of this year compared with a year ago, or down from 28,239 to 20,243.

Down 8.3 per cent from the 23,431 total of a year ago were the 21,474 home loan guaranty applications in May 1968.

VA officials said that while this report on May 1968 G.I. home loan activities covers a period of nearly three weeks since the G.I. home loan interest rate and loan guaranty were increased on May 7, it is still too early to measure the impact of the new 6.75 per cent interest rate and $12,500 maximum VA loan guaranty on the G.I. home loan program.

anti-gun bill, had refused to give blanket approval to a measure which he described today as "imperfect and inadequate without the agreed-upon committee amendments." The new proposal outlaws mail order sales of shotguns and rifles and forbids interstate sales of ammunition.

In urging prompt House approval of the additional gun legislation, Congressman McClory declared, "The attack upon rampant crime in this country must be comprehensive and all inclusive—involving citizens, local and state governments, as well as federal authorities. Gun control legislation is part of the overall attack that must also include the use of modern scientific devices and techniques, better trained law enforcement officials, and most importantly, an aroused public concern. I hope and expect that the Administration will utilize all of the tools placed in its hands. Any lesser effort will only serve to give further encouragement to the lawless, and violent elements in our country."

Camper Measure Up To Legislature

Springfield, June 24—Legislation designed to ease restrictions on the registration and operation of house cars, house trailers, campers and private living coaches has been approved by both the Motor Vehicle Laws and the House Committee on Highways and Traffic Safety, Secretary of State Paul Powell announced.

Mr. Powell expressed the hope that the measure will be enacted by the full General Assembly when it reconvenes July 15.

Legislation enacted in 1967 changed the classification of these vehicles from passenger cars to trucks. The proposed legislation, as amended by the committee in accordance with Secretary Powell's recommendations, would keep them in that category, but would specifically

95% Favor New Gun Registration

WASHINGTON — Sen. Charles McC. Percy (R-Ill.) said today that 95 per cent of his mail last week was on the topic of gun legislation.

"Never before," said Percy, "has a single issue ever commanded such a high proportion of the mail I receive."

Last week the mail was three times heavier than that received the previous week, Percy said. Monday, June 17th, mail reached an estimated 10,000 pieces—largest single day since he arrived in the Senate. Almost all of it was on gun control legislation.

Percy said that 95 per cent of the letter writers favor strict gun controls, and only 5 per cent of the writers opposed controls.

Machines Will Speed Auto Titles

Three new machines, each capable of producing a finished motor vehicle certificate of title in two seconds, as compared with 30 minutes under the old dextograph method, have been installed in the Title Division, Secretary of State Paul Powell has announced.

The new machines will be placed in operation July 1 and with their capacity of producing 21,000 titles a day will substantially speed up the issuance of titles, Mr. Powell said.

In addition, the titles will be more legible, virtually impossible to duplicate or forge and will carry an inventory control number, he said.

The machines were specifically designed for Secretary Powell's office and are manufactured by the AES Company of Chicago.

John Reimer Is Big Winner At Waukegan

Waukegan, Ill., June 30—Four time modified stock car champion John Reimer of Caledonia won every event at the Waukegan Speedway Sunday before the largest entry field of the season. Reimer took the feature lead from Jim Ouellette in the sixteenth lap.

Reimer started by setting the fastest qualifying mark of the season, a scorching 16.36 clocking. Johnny then waltzed away with the trophy dash, scored a heat win handily and then triumphed in the main event.

The feature was stopped twice before the drivers settled down to a fast paced race. Roger Von Otto and Jim Sullivan didn't make the first lap and in the fourth lap Whitey Harris spun, causing a seven car stack-up.

Ouellette set a quick pace with Bill Bohn challenging him right from the green flag. By the fifth lap it was Ouellette, Bohn, Tom Anderson, Harris and Reimer. At the halfway flag Ouellette still lead with Reimer on the inside in second followed by Bohn, Harris and Anderson in close fashion.

After Reimer took the lead, Harris moved into second on the 19th lap but spun in the 22nd with Bohn taking second and Ouellette third and that's the way they finished.

Feature, 30 laps—John Reimer, Caledonia; Bill Bohn, Kenosha; Jim Ouellette, Hales Corners; Tom Anderson, Antioch; Whitey Harris, Lake Villa; Ron Bergsma, Richmond; Jim Sullivan, Antioch.

The annual performance of the Joie Chitwood Auto Thrill Team was rained out Wednesday night, and had to be rescheduled for September 6, a Friday night. Rain also washed out the Saturday event of stock car races. The first demolition of the season was slated for that evening, but Promoter Gordon Sill has announced that it will be run this coming Saturday as the bonus event along with a full complement of late model and hobby stock races.

Drag Races Fri., Sat., Sun. At Union Grove

The most powerful of any stock bodied machines built for racing will be featured Friday night at the Great Lakes Dragaway, Union Grove, Wis. They are the 1500 h.p. supercharged nitro fuel "Funny Cars." In just a 1/4 mile race these ultra-powered machines gulp over 3 gallons of explosive nitro fuel in just 7 seconds, at speeds over 179 mph.

Saturday night and Sunday the sleek nitro fuel dragsters headline the races. These machines have the same power plants as the "Funny Cars" but are without a body. They are the ultimate for speed at around the 220 mph mark.

Some of the known drivers such as Don Garlitz of Seffner, Florida, Chris Karamesines of Chicago, Mike Snively of Los Angeles and Fred Welchman of Milwaukee have been clocked near the 230 mph mark in under 7 seconds.

Friday night's and Saturday night's races start at 8:30 with Sunday's program at 2:00 p.m. trials start 5 hours prior to race time all 3 days.

Only one game was played the week of June 24 because of the rainy weather. This was between the Medics and the Boosters. The Medics beat the Boosters 4-3 behind the pitching of Chip Gross. Jim Rockow pitched for the Boosters.

The boys picked by their team coaches to try out for the Antioch All-Stars had their try-outs on Sunday, June 30th. They are being managed by Harold Walsh with Adolph Bentel, coach. Fifteen boys will be chosen and represent Antioch on July 11 at Dundee, meeting Marengo in the first game. More information will be published at a later date on this game.

Rain Halts A.L. Games

Rain caused postponement of 3 American Legion baseball games last week.

Games scheduled for July are: Wed., July 3—Antioch at Waukegan, 6:00 p.m.

Fri., July 5—Lake Zurich at Antioch, 6:00 p.m.

Mon., July 8—Grayslake at Antioch

Wed., July 10—Lake Region at Antioch

Pollution Control Program Okayed

Programs for air pollution control from 35 industries have been approved by the state's control board. The Illinois Air Pollution Control Board heard and approved remedial action proposed by factories and foundries throughout the state designed to reduce air effluents.

The board adopted rules dealing with limiting emission of sulfur dioxide when the concentrations of pollutants reach levels dangerous to health. The proposed study of limitations on the sulfur content of coal will be completed through the approval of federal funds.

Ed Wolfarth paced his Camp Lake TV team to a 4-2 win over American Legion Bar.

Dr. Ben Berke was missed by Tem's Luggage as they bowed to Silver Lake Hotel 3 1/2 to 2 1/2.

Harris Leads Field In Pt. Standing At Wilmot

When racing resumes its regular Saturday night schedule at the Kenosha County Speedway in Wilmot on Saturday, July 6, the cry will be heard, Stop Harris!

Harris, a three time driver champion, leads in point standing and is the only driver to capture two feature race wins in the tough competition at Wilmot.

Harris has a lot at stake as he is trying to keep a string of three consecutive season championship titles going. Harris won his initial title at Wilmot in 1965 and his second at the Lake Geneva Speed Center in 1966 and the third at the Waukegan Speedway last year.

Harris admits that his competition is tougher this year than ever before. He gives credit to the tough competition as a result of the Interstates Racing Association which was formed to strengthen the sport of modified racing and promote uniformity in rules for the car set, the tracks. A side result has been that the sport has been definitely upgraded and attendance and purses are up over a period of the last several years. Harris is the president of the IRA group and has worked hard in its formation.

Other modified stock car drivers who respect Harris as their leader but who would be willing to see him in another position in the season standings for the Championship, include Tom Anderson, Jim Sullivan and Al Horton of Antioch; Ron Bergsma of Richmond, Eddie Doomis of Waukegan, Jr. Dodd and Jim Bozeman of Waukegan and several others that are in the top ten group.

The IRA modifieds will face a busy schedule starting on Friday night, July 12 with races at the Rockford Speedway. Then the following week they will return to the Bob-Jo Speedway in Sycamore. Then they will continue to appear on a weekly basis at the Wilmot and Waukegan Speedways.

Holiday Races At Wilmot

Rain and storms on Saturday spoiled the modified and stock car auto races at the Kenosha County Speedway in Wilmot. Race fans, however, will not have to wait all week for the next races. A special holiday eve race had already been set for Wednesday night, July 3.

One of the largest turnouts of cars is expected because the Wilmot oval is the only track with a preholiday race night scheduled. This has caused several of the northern area drivers to indicate they will be on hand for the special holiday eve races and try to win against the Interstate modified stock car drivers on their home track.

Heading the list of these northern drivers will be Johnny Reimer of Caledonia who won the feature event at the Hales Corners Speedway last Saturday night.

The Wilmot regulars, including Champions, Whitey Harris, Roger Otto, and Don Sorce plus a host of other top drivers among whom are Tom Anderson, Bill Strom, Mouse Wade, Ron Bergsma, Claude Potter and others, will be at their sharpest condition of the season to finish ahead of the group from the North.

The evening of racing will also include late model stock cars and is sure to break attendance records for competitors for the year.

Whitey Harris leads in point standings at Wilmot and Tom Anderson of Antioch is in second place. Harris just won the lead by winning his second feature event of the year at Wilmot to become the only driver to double in feature race victories.

Hole In One For Louis Nielsen

NEW YORK — A hole-in-one scored by Antioch resident Louis Nielsen may earn him $1,000 plus a trip to Scotland, should his luck prove as good as his drive.

By virtue of carding his ace at the Glen Flora Country Club, Nielsen not only fulfilled the dream of every golfer, but also the entry requirements for the annual Rusty Nail Hole-in-one Sweepstakes.

The winner of the sweepstakes will be announced early next year.

Antioch Lbr. Beats Cermak

Thursday's Two-Light Golf League was showered on Thursday evening, and as the rains came down, so did the Cermak Realty team, with their lead cut to 1/2 point. Lars Steffenberg's return to play bolstered the Antioch Lumber team to a 5-1 win over Cermak.

Ray's Shell Service team proved to be mudders with a 6-0 win over Antioch State Bank.

Maggie and Bob's Tavern triumphed over Kenosha Savings and Loan 3 1/2 to 2 1/2.

Ed Wolfarth paced his Camp Lake TV team to a 4-2 win over American Legion Bar.

WE RAN THIS AD LAST YEAR.
WE THINK IT'S WORTH REPEATING.
WE STILL THINK
OURS IS A GREAT COUNTRY.

Is it square to be patriotic?

If it is...
then, by golly, we're square.
Because we're proud of our American heritage...
grateful for the free enterprise system that has afforded us the privilege of serving the American people for more than a century.

The United States is today,
and has been since its founding,
the land of opportunity.

We've been first-hand witnesses to this fact for a long time.
In our business, we've seen good, sound competition grow and prosper.
We welcome it.
It keeps us on our toes.

As July 4th approaches,
we want to go on record
as saying:
"We're proud of being Americans."

As we said:

Milk Market Is Combined By Order

On July 1 a Chicago regional Federal milk market order will be put into effect by the U. S. Department of Agriculture which will combine the Chicago, Milwaukee, Madison, Northeastern Wisconsin, Rock River Valley and Northwestern Indiana milk markets.

The department announced the single order for these areas on completing its count of the vote on a referendum which showed dairy farmers approve the issuance of the Chicago regional order by a vote of 12,585 to 2,544. This represents an 84 per cent favorable vote which is considerably in excess of the two-thirds favorable producer vote required to put a Federal milk order into effect.

Avery A. Vose of Antioch, President of Pure Milk Association, said PMA received official word last week of the outcome of the referendum and the department's decision to promptly issue the Chicago regional order.

"Except for the inclusion of the Northwestern Indiana order area, which was unwarranted and unsupported by the facts, Pure Milk Association considers the Chicago regional milk market order far sighted and sound," Vose commented.

"The Class I price of at least $5.53 per cwt. of bottling milk at the 85-mile zone, or marketing area under the new Chicago order, sets a more realistic minimum producer price than the department had proposed in its recommendation last December, and extends that price over a wider area," Vose said.

"The Chicago regional order offers dairy farmer cooperatives a better foundation for bargaining for superpool prices," he declared.

Superpool prices paid producers are higher than the minimum Class I prices established by the Department of Agriculture under a Federal milk market order.

Vose said the $5.53 Class I minimum under terms of the Chicago regional order will remain in effect through April 1969.

STRATEGY WITH SALT

Salt the roast before, after or during the cooking process. It makes no difference when it's added because it doesn't penetrate the roast much more than one-fourth of an inch.

However, when broiling meats like steaks or chops, season after each side is browned. Salt tends to draw moisture out of the meat during this cooking process and may retard the browning that's so desirable.

He pointed out that Pure Milk Association and other Chicago market dairy farmer cooperatives pressed for higher Class I prices for producers than the department had recommended last December, their purpose being to encourage dairy farmers to stay in dairying and to insure consumers adequate supplies of milk.
